A BOY WITH A FORTUNE

A boy with a fortune is the boy who has one hundred dollars that he himself has saved. His fortune consists not alone of the money saved—and what boy with a hundred dollars would not feel like a millionaire?—but of a valuable lesson learned.

Not only has he experienced the thrill of possession, but he has caught the thrift habit. He has learned to do without useless things. He no longer squanders his money. He has better judgment of values. He is doubtless a far better boy.

Has your boy started to save yet? If he has not, there is no better time to teach him to begin than now—at this bank.

The Truest End of Life.

The truest end of life is to know the life that never ends.—William Penn.

Virginia Can Not Lag Behind Other States

The following States have placed motor buses under the same regulations and control that apply to other common carriers:

New York	Maryland	Conneticut
Pennsylvania	Nevado	Illinoise
Arkansas	Colorado	New Jersey
New Hampshire	Utah	Arizona

District of Columbia

Similar action probably will be taken by other States at the current sessions of their legislatures.

The motor bus is being regulated, not because legislatures or public officials want to drive it out of business, but because

—State control assures the public of a dependable, safe bus service wherever needed; a service over regular routes, on fixed time schedules, provided by responsible persons;

—State control protects streets and roads from needless destruction;

—State control protects bondholders and stockholders of electric railways and other common carriers against an unfair competition that threatens to drive these lines out of business and in many cases has already actually done so.

There is nowhere greater need for bus regulation than in Virginia.

A Surprise Party

On last Friday night the girls of Rock neighborhood gathered at Mrs. Ed Roaches and gave Bob a surprise party. When Mrs Roach heard the crowd coming she tipped out on the porch and began to ring the farm bell, then the young girls and boys rushed in and found Robert sitting there with his shoes off and with his overal's and everyday clothes on but nevertheless he seemed to enjoy it all just as much as any of the rest and didn't seem to be in any hurr to shoe himself or put on Sunday clothes either. They enjoyed all sort of little fun games until 9:30 when two ladies went out into the hall and rolled a table into the guest room loaded down with all sorts of cakes and fruits when Bob exclaimed "well mama must have known of this", and so mama did but kept it a secret from Bobbie X
